

Final Exam Announcement

Time: 2020, 6/15 (Mon), 14:20-17:40

Location: Room 402, Mag. Buld. 1.

1. Part 1, Hand-Written Exam

- Duration of the exam is 2 hours and the exam consists of 70% of the total grade.
- Open book: please make sure you bring the lecture slides (lecture 7-10) and homework with you. You are welcome to bring any other “hard copy” to the exam (but probably won’t be needed).
- All electronic devices (laptop, phone, ...) except calculator are prohibited.
- All the results from lecture slides and homeworks could be used directly in your answers, as long as you specify where it came from, while other results must be proved and explained clearly.

2. Part 2, Computer Exam

- Duration of the exam is 1 hours and the exam consists of 30% of the total grade.
- Any material stored in your computer can be used, while access to the Internet is strictly prohibited. You are also welcome to bring any other “hard copy” to the exam.
- All codes must be written on the “R Answer Sheet” provided by TA, which you’ll have to download from NTU COOL Assignments before the exam.
- All “blanks” in the answer sheet must be filled out properly to receive full credit. After the exam, you’ll have 5 minutes to connect to the Internet and submit your answer in R file (no word, txt,...) on NTU COOL Assignments. Fail to do so will result in reduction of the final grades.
- Please charge your laptop before the exam, since there is limited place to charge it in class.
- Make sure you have the package ISLR, MASS and kmed, which will be used in the exam. Other packages used in the homeworks may also be used, please also make sure you have already downloaded them, especially for those who updated their R recently.

3. Part 3, For students who want to take the exam at home

- TA will open an online meeting by Skype, and he will share the link to join the meeting at 14:10 on NTU COOL Announcements. Every student who wants to take the exam at home should join the online meeting(you can still join the meeting even though you don't have the account), and use your NTU ID as your meeting ID. You must show up on your web camera.
- For hand-written part, TA will share the question by Skype at 14:20.
- For computer part, please download the question and R answer sheet in 16:40-16:50 on NTU COOL Assignments.
- Write down your answers for hand-written exam on A4 paper, and then scan and upload on NTU COOL Assignments as pdf file in 16:20-16:40.
